Bushnell Blushes for His State.

Columbus, Ohio, June 4.
Editor New York Journal: Advices indicate that all is quiet at Urbana, and I shall send no troops at present. I was absent from the city last night, and was first apprised of the shooting at 2:30 o'clock this morning, and at once ordered the Springfield company to Urbana.
When they reached there the Sheriff said he did not need them, and they were permitted to go home. The lynching occurred a short time after.
It was a very unfortunate occurrence, and I blush for the name of my State when I think of this matter. But investigation will show that I was not derelict in any one of my duties.
ASA S. BUSHNELL,
Governor of Ohio.

Upton Baker, of Salem Township, shot through body.
WOUNDED BY MILITIA.
Prosecuting Attorney S. S. Deaton, flesh wound in leg.
Dr. Charles Thompson, of North Lewisburg, wounded in head.
Zack Want, shot in hip; may die.
George Elliott, superintendent Electric Light Company; face slightly wounded.
Dennis Graney, of Urbana, shot in right foot.
Wesley Bowman, of Cable, shot in hip; seriously hurt.
Ray Dickerson, living six miles east of Urbana, wounded in right arm.
Gus Weiser, face wounded.
John McKeever, shot in arm.
Ray McClure, of Urbana, shot in
arm.
J. Hagins, wounded in head.

Urbana, Ohio, June 4.—In the fruitless effort to save the life of one negro brute the rifles of the State militia have taken the lives of two citizens and have laid eleven others low. The infuriated mob, driven from its purpose for a few hours, returned to the work of vengeance, stormed the jail and securing its man, dragged him through an awful gantlet and hanged his torn and bleeding body to a tree in the court house square.
To-night Urbana Calmer, mourns the mad haste of its lynchers. Men who have had a hand in the bloody work denounce the citizen soldiers for shooting down their relatives and friends. The sheriff explains his inability to protect his prisoner by charging that Governor Bushnell failed to send troops while there was yet time.
The Governor denies this, asserting at the same time that his full and complete duty has been done.
The Sheriff, the militia captain and ten of his soldiers who did the shooting, have been forced to flee from this city lest the rage of the mob be visited upon them.
Identified by His Victim.
One week ago to-day Mrs. Eliza Gaumer, a widow, and owner of the Champaign Democrat, was assaulted by Charles (better known as Chick) Mitchell, a negro, at her home in this city, near the court house. She requested her son to announce that she had been attacked for the purpose of robbery. It was then given out that Mitchell had attempted to force her to sign a check for $500.
Mitchell was arrested next day on a charge of robbing and attempt to kill. He has since been kept in the city prison awaiting a preliminary hearing, because Mrs. Gaumer has been in a critical condition and was unable to appear in court to identify him.
Mayor Ganson decided to have the prisoner taken before Mrs. Gaumer at her home on Wednesday for the purpose of establishing his identity if possible. Mrs.

Gaumer lay in bed in an upstairs room and looked but a shadow of her former self.
The prisoner was handcuffed but walked with a bold and defiant air. When he was led before Mrs. Gaumer she, raising herself up and with flashing eyes cried, "That is the man, how dare you face me, you brute." Slipped Him Into Court.
That was all the authorities wanted, and he was led back to prison. When the citizens learned that Mitchell had frightfully bruised and lacerated Mrs. Gaumer about the face and neck with his nails the excitement became intense. As the anger of the citizens increased it was recognized by the authorities that speedy steps must be taken or trouble would result.
Mayor Ganson held Mitchell over and Judge Heiserman called a special Grand Jury last night and the prisoner was indicted. Then the Court, after consulting Attorney Joe Flanahan, who represented Mitchell, instructed the Sheriff to bring the prisoner into court at once. It was not five minutes later when the Sheriff and Deputy Sheriff, with Mitchell in charge, walked hurriedly out of the corridor of the jail and entered the north door of the court house. They were preceded by six members of the local militia, who stood on guard at the south door as Sheriff McLain took the prisoner up the stairway.
Guards were also on duty at the front door and no opportunity was given the big crowd that surrounded the court house to get in the building.
Mitchell was attired in the uniform of a militia man, wearing a cap and cape that made it difficult to distinguish him from one of the many guards about the jail and court house. He hung closely to the side of the Sheriff and cast furtive glances in every direction as he half ran up the stairway to the court room. As the prisoner walked into the court room and took a chair in front of the bar he was immediately told to stand by the Court.
Confessed His Guilt.
Mitchell was evidently badly frightened.
His lips trembled and his dark skin became ashen in hue. In response to the question of the Court as to whether the defendant would waive the reading of the indictment, Mitchell's attorney answered in the affirmative.
"You have been indicted by the Grand Jury, justly charged of assault upon Eliza Gaumer," said the Court, addressing the prisoner. "Are you guilty or not guilty?"

"Guilty," answered the prisoner, promptly.
"You having pleaded guilty to this offence," continued the Court, "it is the duty of the Court to at once sentence you.
The very serious consequences of the deed you have confessed to have committed are all around you. The court house and jail are surrounded by angry people and you have been protected only by the vigilance of the sheriff and those he has called to his assistance. In order that your life may be spared and the lives of innocent persons saved, the Court at once will pronounce sentence upon you so that the sheriff may get you out of this town."
"The offence of which you are charged and of which you have pleaded guilty is a most grievous one. It is one, perhaps, which ought to call for the infliction of the death penalty, but it is the duty of the Court and officers to administer the laws as they find them. It is the sentence of the Court that you be confined in the Ohio Penitentiary for the full term of twenty years, no part of which shall be in solitary confinement. The Sheriff will take you to the penitentiary to-night." News Quickly Spread.
At the conclusion of Judge Heiserman's remarks, the Sheriff seized Mitchell by the arm and hurried him out of the court room and back to jail. Although the Judge asked those in the court room to make no mention of the proceedings of the evening to any one on the outside in order that the excitement might not be intensified, the news of Mitchell's pleading guilty and sentence spread over the town like wild fire, and an excited mob surged around the Court House and jail. It was then the Sheriff's plan to get the prisoner out of town on the 10 o'clock train was made, but it was evident that he would never get away alive unless the angry mob should be outwitted. Every avenue leading from the jail was guarded by members of the Vigilance Committee.

It was reported that the Sheriff had already taken Mitchell to Hagenbuch Station, and a crowd of about 200 armed men left in carriages and buggies about 9:30 to intercept the officers and prisoner in case they would try to board the train at that place. When the 10 o'clock train arrived the depot platform was black with people, many thinking that an attempt might be made to place Mitchell on the train in this city.
When it was seen that no effort would be made to get Mitchell out of town by force as he had been told, the crowd decided to board the train and go to Hagenbuch Station, but the conductor announced that he had no orders to stop at that place, and only a few got on the train. As the train approached the station it began to slow up, but without any signal being
